

Natalie Herskovic began working in the personal injury area of the law three years ago as a law clerk for the law firm of Freedman, Herskovic & Spagnuolo, PLC. After graduating and passing the Bar, Natalie began her practice of law in the field of creditor's rights. After practicing in that area many months, Natalie returned to Freedman, Herskovic & Spagnuolo, PLC where her career began, representing accident victims and people injured by the carelessness of others.

Natalie handles automobile cases such as first party claims, which are cases against your own insurance company for medical benefits, wage loss benefits, and other benefits you may be entitled to under the Michigan No-Fault Law.

She also handles third party cases, which are actions against the person who caused the automobile accident. Natalie also works on medical malpractice, general negligence and premises liability claims.

In addition to personal injury, Natalie has expanded her areas of practice and has handled many criminal misdemeanor cases in various district courts. Natalie also handles many court appointed misdemeanor matters ranging from driving while license suspended to driving while intoxicated. Occasionally, Natalie has been asked to handle domestic violence matters.
